ROSE TRICKY FROM FIRST BECKER TELLS GOVERNOR, AND NEVER WAS TRUSTED

For Rose except to arrest his men. When he was told that Rose had been arrested, he was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there. He was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there.

TOLD WALDO HE FEARED IT WOULD MAKE ENEMY

At the same time Waldo directed me to procure evidence against Freeman's gambling house. I went to the Elks Club on Fourth street, and told the Elks Club that I was a friend of the Elks Club. I told them that I was a friend of the Elks Club and that I was a friend of the Elks Club.

Wanted His Men Cleared.

When Rose met me two or three days after our first meeting in the restaurant, he told me that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He told me that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

In order to test him I agreed to help him. I told him that I was a friend of the Elks Club and that I was a friend of the Elks Club. I told him that I was a friend of the Elks Club and that I was a friend of the Elks Club.

Marshall Failed to Appear.

The next day Marshall failed to appear in court. I asked for an adjournment till the next day, but the judge refused. I asked for an adjournment till the next day, but the judge refused.

THE ELKS CLUB BANQUET INCIDENT IS DESCRIBED

Rose in his confession said he collected money from Curley for me. This demonstrates more of his perjury. I am not sure, but I think I saw him in the Elks Club on the night of the Elks Club banquet. I am not sure, but I think I saw him in the Elks Club on the night of the Elks Club banquet.

Rose at Elks Dinner Too.

When the dinner was nearly over Rose came in and was seated at our table. He was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there. He was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there.

Rose and I had no conversation pertaining to his business or anything else. I was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there. I was so sure that he would be able to get him out of there that he did not even try to get him out of there.

mentioned or given to me, as Rose says. One day about ten days or two weeks after October 20, 1911, while I was in the restaurant on Broadway, near Broome street, where I daily ate lunch, one came there, saying he had found a man who was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Rose then made a proposition that he be allowed to request his gambling house and to run unopposed. For this privilege he said he would assist me to get out of there. He said that he would assist me to get out of there and that he would assist me to get out of there.

Fortunately for me reporters for the Morning Telegraph and the American had been in the restaurant. They saw me and they saw me. They saw me and they saw me. They saw me and they saw me.

After this raid Inspector McCloskey never spoke to me again. My friend the late Alfred Henry Lewis called me and he said that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Officer White had now become so well known to me that I was able to get him to help me. I told him that I was a friend of the Elks Club and that I was a friend of the Elks Club. I told him that I was a friend of the Elks Club and that I was a friend of the Elks Club.

Cases Felt Through.

The case against Ryan of 129 West Sixty-fifth street was dismissed. The case against Peters of 139 West Forty-first street was dismissed in police court, but he was dismissed from the premises in civil court on White's testimony. Curley reopened his gambling house at 81 East Ninth street and on January 12, 1912, I raided him. I raided him and I raided him.

ROSE TRICKY FROM FIRST BECKER TELLS GOVERNOR, AND NEVER WAS TRUSTED

Rose and I attended the Elks' banquet. Rose claimed that he came there to warn me against Rosenthal and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Rose and I went to the Elks Club on the night of the Elks Club banquet. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Only Raided on Waldo's Order.

Sullivan said, "Now you see how Waldo feels about it." He also said that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

doubt tell him all he—Rosenthal—wished to know. Rosenthal then said he had an auto to take me home waiting. I refused to take the auto and I refused to take the auto. I refused to take the auto and I refused to take the auto.

Rose told me that Rosenthal had been arrested. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Refused Rose's Trick.

I now realized why Rose was such a willing stool pigeon. He was a friend of the Elks Club and he was a friend of the Elks Club. He was a friend of the Elks Club and he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Here I made the mistake of suggesting to him that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Decided to Ignore Tim.

I then decided to pay no more attention to Sullivan, even though I might be ground between the Elks Club and the Elks Club. I decided to ignore him and I decided to ignore him.

NIGHT OF THE RAID

Rose told me that Rosenthal knew White from seeing him in court the time he was arrested. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

Feared Leak Through McAdoo.

I knew McAdoo and Larry Mulligan were friends and I feared a leak might occur by which Rosenthal would learn of the intended raid and perhaps move his gambling fixtures out and then claim I had no evidence, as there were no gambling fixtures on the premises when I raided. I feared a leak might occur by which Rosenthal would learn of the intended raid and perhaps move his gambling fixtures out and then claim I had no evidence, as there were no gambling fixtures on the premises when I raided.

We then got into an automobile driven by Harry Klein and drove to the Elks Club. I saw him and I saw him. I saw him and I saw him. I saw him and I saw him.

Mrs. Rosenthal in Place.

While this work was in progress Mrs. Rosenthal came to the door of the room where I was. She was a friend of the Elks Club and she was a friend of the Elks Club. She was a friend of the Elks Club and she was a friend of the Elks Club.

for me and said he had heard Rosenthal was open and doing business. Thinking Waldo knew as much about it as I did from what "Tim" had told me, I told Waldo that I had heard so too. Waldo then said he wanted Rosenthal closed. I took this with a grain of salt, as I had heard that Rosenthal was open and doing business. I took this with a grain of salt, as I had heard that Rosenthal was open and doing business.

I then told Waldo that if my raiding of Rosenthal meant the reduction of Inspector Hayes' I wished he would not reduce Hayes, but would transfer all his plain clothes men. This Waldo did. He paid $155 in trying to get evidence against Rosenthal; if Hayes told me the truth the department records would show that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

I told Waldo that I wanted to get as many men in Rosenthal's house as possible. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club. He said that he was a friend of the Elks Club and that he was a friend of the Elks Club.

While this work was in progress Mrs. Rosenthal came to the door of the room where I was. She was a friend of the Elks Club and she was a friend of the Elks Club. She was a friend of the Elks Club and she was a friend of the Elks Club.

After the funeral of my sister we returned to her home to see how mother was. She was so ill to go to funeral, as she was so ill to go to funeral. She was so ill to go to funeral, as she was so ill to go to funeral.

This was the first time Mrs. Becker and I were in Rose's home. I made this stop at my sister's home. I made this stop at my sister's home. I made this stop at my sister's home.

I made an appointment with Rose to meet me at 11 P. M. at the corner of 14th street and Third. I made an appointment with Rose to meet me at 11 P. M. at the corner of 14th street and Third.

I saw Webster in Luchow's. While in Luchow's I saw Webster enter, but did not speak to him. The next time I saw Webster was at Madison Square Garden, on the street July 15, 1912, after the fight, but again did not speak to him. I saw Webster in Luchow's. lunch with us. They accepted. While at lunch some one from Sam Paul came and asked the Judge to accept bail for the men whom I had arrested. This the Judge did and then left to sit in the night court. Maher and I walked to Twenty-third street and Fourth avenue and left for our home.

On Saturday, July 13, after reading the papers, I asked acting Commissioner McKay for permission to use the force of the police for information to use and he approved it. I then went to the office of Louis J. Grant, at 35 Nassau street, where I had met him. I saw him and I saw him. I saw him and I saw him.

closed. It was then near 12:30 A. M. Sunday, July 14, I then tried to get Judge Harlow, O'Connor and Chief Judge McKay, neither of whom were home. Then Mr. White said he did not think we could get the notary who took the affidavit, as he lived in the Bronx, so we gave up the idea of getting a warrant that night and we went home.

Sunday morning early Rose called me on telephone and said he had read Rosenthal's affidavit in the World and that it did not amount to anything, as he could disprove the mortgage story. Rose said he had an appointment with Judge Harlow at the bridge entrance while I went to see Mr. White, who gave me four or five clippings and asked me to return them Monday. Mr. White and I then went to the Press Club for a few minutes, when I left him, with my wife at the bridge and went to Brighton Beach, getting home near midnight. We had just reached home when our private telephone rang. I answered and found Mr. Applebaum on the wire. "Big Tim's" secretary. He asked me if he could see me at once. I said "yes." A short while afterward Mr. Applebaum called and said that he had been sent by "Big Tim" to bring me down to meet him at his home at 215 West 11th street. I rode down with Applebaum and when we arrived, Tim got out of his automobile. Tim asked me to go upstairs to his office on the fourth floor of the street.

NIGHT OF THE RAID

When we got into his office Tim said he had sent for me because he was worried to death about the Rosenthal case, which he was afraid Rosenthal would involve him, not only in his gambling house, but also in some election frauds on the East Side. He said Rosenthal would do him immense harm if he dragged him into this mess. Tim said he had sent for me in relation to Rosenthal opening his gambling house. Tim said if I did mention it it would ruin him. I promised not to do so, no matter what Rosenthal said. Tim said that he had sent Applebaum to see Rosenthal and offer him $5,000 to leave town.

Paid Mrs. Rosenthal.

Tim said Applebaum had seen Mrs. Rosenthal that day and given her a hundred or two hundred dollars. I do not know which it was, but that he had paid her. Rosenthal promised to keep her husband from making any more charges. Tim said, "Now I want you to assure me that you won't bring me in if you don't want to do so. I have kept that promise until now. I then left for home at about 1:30 A. M. Monday, July 15. The chauffeurs of Tim's and Applebaum's autos and Applebaum can verify this.

Phoned for Affidavit.

I got Rose on the wire and asked him if the Dora Gilbert affidavit had been made. He said "Not yet," but that the men were now at her home. Rose at this time asked me if I had heard that Whitman had issued subpoenas for "Dollar John." After the Dora Gilbert and some one named Harris. I said I had heard so from some newspaper men in Hart's office just a little while ago. Rose said it did not amount to anything as he was prepared to make a fool of Rosenthal and that he had written Webster to see if he could not get Rosenthal and could not cooperate what Rosenthal had said and that there was nothing to worry about.

give instructions to the operator—Haywood—to make no more calls under any conditions with our apartment. We then went to our rooms and I muffled the telephone bells with tissue paper so that even if there was a connection plugged in the bells would not ring. Then we had dinner and left for Brighton Beach. I had an appointment with Mr. White of the New York World at his office at 1 P. M. to get the record of the newspaper clipping of Rosenthal from the biographical department. When Mrs. Becker and I got out of the subway at the Brooklyn Bridge, Mrs. B. walked off at the bridge entrance while I went to see Mr. White, who gave me four or five clippings and asked me to return them Monday.
